The Technology Center AIMEN is looking for a

"R&D Coordinator for the Non Destructive Testing Research Line"

Main Responsibilities:

- Engage in research activities and participate in the definition of R&D projects.
- Coordination and supervision of research teams.
- Development of national and international proposals: Partner search and proposals writing in English.
- Project management: Establish the work plan, budget control, prepare follow-up reports, and liaise on a regular basis with both colleagues and external collaborators.

Qualifications required:

Graduate in Physics or Engineering.

PhD in subjects such as non-destructive control and processes monitoring, sensors development will be highly appreciated.

We wish to appoint a researcher with expertise in the following topics:

- NDT: experience in non-destructive control techniques and processes monitoring, tests definition, results interpretation, search of regulations, experiments design.
- Sensors: Development of sensors for applications in the field of non-destructive control of processes or products.
- At least 2 year experience in a similar position.
- English: advanced level.

Desirable Criteria:

- Excellent interpersonal and communication/negotiation skills
- Experience in supervising and giving advice to technical staff.
- Initiative, proactive, responsible and able to prioritize.
- Able to work to a high standard while meeting deadlines
- Knowledge of different R&D calls will be considered as an asset.

We offer:

- You will become part of a prestigious and solid organization, in continuous development and introduced in the main industrial sectors.
- Competitive salary according to your skills and experience.
- Career development.

Click on Vacancy Application Form and attach your CV and cover letter in a single electronic file. (Job reference: 7/12)

AIMEN- Relva 27A, Torneiros- PC 36410 O Porriño Phone:+34 986 344 000- Fax:+34 986 337 302