

Iberian award for the most distinguished PhD Thesis in Rheology.

Under the auspices of the Portuguese Society of Rheology and the Spanish Rheology Group (RSEF and RSEQ)

An Iberian award will be given to the most distinguished PhD Thesis in Rheology, each two years, by the Portuguese Society of Rheology (SPR) and the Spanish Rheology Group (GER / RSEF and RSEQ), that will guarantee the provision of funds for the prize. The delivery of the award will take place during the Iberian Meeting on Rheology, Ibero.

- The candidates must be members of SPR or GER at the moment of the application.
- The award Adjudicating Committee will be appointed by the SPR and the GER.
- The final decision of the Adjudicating Committee will be taken at Ibero 2015 after a 15 minutes presentation of the previously selected candidates*.
- The award will consist on 500 euros and a Diploma, and can be shared by no more than two candidates.
