

INTERNATIONAL COLLOQUIUM

INSIDE ARGUMENTS

LOGIC vs ARGUMENTATION THEORY

Faculty of Letters of the University of Coimbra

(Portugal)

March 24-26, 2011

CALL FOR PAPERS

(papers accepted)

ANDREI MOLDOVAN (PhD student at the University of Salamanca, Spain):

- Some thoughts about logical form and argument analysis

FABRIZIO MACAGNO (post-doctoral researcher at the New University of Lisbon, Portugal):

- Reconstructing and assessing the conditions of meaningfulness. An argumentative approach to presupposition

JESSE ALAMA (Center for Artificial Intelligence of the New University of Lisbon), and SARA L. UCKELMAN (Institute for Logic, Language, and Computation, of the University of Amsterdam, The Netherlands):

- Lorenzen dialogue games as logical semantics

KONSTANTIN SKRIPNIK (Russian Customs Academy, Russia):

- Is it possible to consider logic and argumentation theory without rhetoric ?

MARCIN LEWINSKI (post-doctoral researcher at the New University of Lisbon, Portugal):

- Monologue, dialogue, or polylogue: which model for public deliberation ?

XAVIER DE DONATO RODRÍGUEZ (University of Santiago de Compostela, Spain):

- Argumentation theory vs formal logic: the case of scientific argumentation and the 'logic' of controversies