Seminar of University Alliance of the New Silk Road

Chinese and Portuguese Historical Relations. In the Context of the Silk Road

26-30 May 2016

© PIMC UC • 2016  |  Jan Huygen van Linschoten – Itinerario, Voyage ofte Schipvaert van Jan Huygen van Linschoten naar Oost ofte Portugaels Indien, 1596

Organized by:

Universidade de Coimbra
Faculdade de Letras

Executive Committee:
Roger Lee de Jesus
Kevin Soares

With the support of:

Santander
May 26
13h-14h15 – Registration
(Museu da Ciência da Universidade de Coimbra)

14h15 – Keynote speaker:
“Ploughing the Seas – The Portuguese and East Asia”
- Luís Filipe Barreto

15h30-16h – Coffee-break
(Museu da Ciência da Universidade de Coimbra)

16h15 – Welcome
(Arquivo da Universidade de Coimbra)

16h45 – Visit to the Archive of the University of Coimbra

19h30 – Dinner (Clube de Memórias)

May 27
(Faculty of Arts and Humanities – UC, Room TP2)

9h30-11h – Panel 1
Chinese commodities exported from Macau in the late sixteenth to early seventeenth century - Rui Loureiro
(Instituto Superior Manuel Teixeira Gomes and Portuguese Centre for Global History (CHAM))

The study about Portugal post system in Macao during 1757-1842 - Leng Dong
(Thirteen Hang Research Centre, Guangzhou University) and Tang Xuan
(Social and Science Department, Guangzhou University)

11h-11h30 – Coffee-break

11h30-13h – Panel 2
Portugal, China, and the Pirates of Calabane (Macau), 1910 – Robert James Antony
(Thirteen Hang Research Centre, Guangzhou University)

The inspiration and history of the Maritime Silk Route
- Lu Yan
(Fujian Academy of Social Sciences, China Maritime Silk Route Studies Centre)

13h-14h30 – Lunch (Justiça e Paz)

14h30-16h – Panel 3
The law of the rise and fall of the town along the Silk Road (China Section) and its Enlightenment – Wang Fengyun
(Public Administration School, Guangzhou University)

The Special Tourism Planning Researcher of Huangpu Historic Village with Commercial Culture – Yang Honglie
(Thirteen Hang Research Centre, Guangzhou University)

16h16h30 – Coffee-break

16h30-19h – Panel 4
Sea-god Worship along the Maritime Silk Road: a case study of worshipping three gods in Huangpu Village, Guangzhou – Pan Jianfen
(Haizhu Cultural Heritage & Relic Administration Center of Guangzhou)

Chopmarked Coins in the Trade of Maritime Silk Road and Their Impacts on China’s Money Finance – Dai Jianbing
(Hebei Normal University) and Qiao Jianzhen
(Confucian Institute PUC-Rio, Brazil)

19h30 – Dinner (D. Dinis Cultural Centre)

May 28
(Faculty of Arts and Humanities – UC, Room TP2)

10h-12h30 – Panel 5
The Maritime Silk Road and the Interaction Between Portugal and China in Early Qing Dynasty – He Yongtian
(College of Humanities, Guangzhou University)

The evolution of Sino Portuguese trade settlement in the Ming and Qing Dynasties – Kong Zhuheng
(College of humanities, Guangzhou University)

Hokkien Porcelain - The Witness to the Early Trade Between China and Portugal – Li Yankun
(College of humanities, Guangzhou University)

Between West and East: Portuguese Warfare in Asia in the 16th century - Roger Lee de Jesus
(Center for History of Society and Culture – University of Coimbra and Portuguese Centre for Global History (CHAM))

12h30-14h30 – Lunch (Justiça e Paz)

May 29
(Faculty of Arts and Humanities – UC, Room TP2)

9h30-11h – Panel 6

Traditional building methods of Chinese junk illustrated by examples of Dongshan county and other areas in Fujian Province - Ye Chong
(China Maritime Museum) and Kong Binghuang
(Cultural Heritage Successor)

Restructuring of Canton Hong Merchantsand and Formed the Pattern of Going out in 1790 – Tan Yuanheng
(Institute of Hakka studies, South China University of Technology)

11h-11h30 – Coffee-break

11h30-13h – Panel 7
A Preliminary Study on the Relationship between Zheng Zhilong and the Portuguese – Chen Zonghai
(College of humanities, Guangzhou University)

Research on Collaborative promotion of the “Silk Road” major project social responsibility- Based on the perspective of spiritual leadership – Zhao Jiaxuan
(School of Business, Guangzhou University)

Macau and the Inquisition of Goa: a survey of the first 100 years – Miguel Rodrigues Lourenço
(Portuguese Centre for Global History (CHAM) - FCSH/NOVA-UAc)

The Macanese Episcopal Body (1576-1782) - Kevin Carreira Soares
(Center for History of Society and Culture – University of Coimbra)

13h-14h30 – Lunch (Justiça e Paz)

14h30-16h – Panel 8
A Policy Process Analysis of “One Belt One Road” from District Cooperation Perspective – Jiang Hongjun
(Public Administration School, Guangzhou University)

Strengthen “Sankey fish ponds” and the protection of historical and cultural heritage of the silk industry, and actively integrate into the 21st Century Maritime Silk Road – Wang Yuanlin
(Institute of Archaeology and Cultural Heritage of Jinan University)

16h-16h30 – Coffee-break

16h30-19h – Panel 9
Portuguese bring tributes to the Ming Dynasty in the first time and the Hui-hui’s contribution – Ma Jianchun
(Institute of Sino-Foreign Relation History, College of Liberal Arts – Jinan University)

Portuguese bishops in continental China during Early Modern Age – José Pedro Paiva
(Center for History of Society and Culture – University of Coimbra)

19h – Closing ceremony

20h – Dinner (Piscinas do Mondego)